HARVARD UNIVERSITY
Health Services

Dear New Student:

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Harvard University and Harvard University Health Services (HUHS). Please review the below information regarding important health requirements.

Good health is of the utmost importance in maintaining good academic standing and quality of life, and we strive to support you in all aspects of your health during your time at Harvard. Visit the HUHS website to find out more information on the wide range of services, including:

- Primary care
- Mental health
- Urgent care
- Medical specialties
- HUHS providers

Massachusetts has strict immunization requirements that you must comply with in order to register for classes. Immunizations help protect you from illnesses, and contribute to the overall well-being of our community. We encourage you to receive any required immunizations before you arrive at Harvard, as many health insurance plans will cover the cost. If you are unable to obtain these prior to your arrival on campus, you may arrange to get immunizations at HUHS for a fee.

Please visit huhs.harvard.edu to access the various medical forms that must be completed and mailed back to us by June 15, 2013.

We hope that you come to see Harvard University Heath Services as your wellness center, and a place to visit when you need care.

Wishing you the best of health,

Paul J. Barreira M.D.
